

RappFLOW educational activities related to Avon Hall Pond in 2013 – 2014

September 8, 2014
Bev Hunter

Web site pages for all project reports, data, such as lists of seed species, native shrubs, trees.
Www.rappflow.org

Exhibits at the May 2014 concert at the pond

Student interns – high school and college
Ben Estes, RCHS
Helen Hutcheson, Mary Washington University

Educational brochure (see example)

Opening ceremony of the National habitat and restoration area and nature trail June 27

Tour of pond watershed for the Culpeper Soil & Water Conservation District Board of Directors
Spring 2014

Native shrubs planting July with volunteers

Wetlands planting July 24 with 15 volunteers

Farm Tour September 2013

Fish shocking with VDGIF Spring 2013

Articles in Rappahannock News

Educational signs drafted, in review

Citizen science online system for recording and sharing data. Www.citsci.org. Planning a workshop on using citsci.